

CCICADA Director Fred S. Roberts Awarded Docteur Honoris Causa at University of Paris-Dauphine

On June 27, 2013, Fred S. Roberts, Director of the Command, Control and Interoperability Center for Advanced Data Analysis (CCICADA), Director Emeritus of and Special Advisor to the Center for Discrete Mathematics and Theoretical Computer Science (DIMACS) and Professor of Mathematics, Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey, was awarded the title and insignia of Honorary Doctor or ‘Docteur Honoris Causa’ at the University of Paris-Dauphine. The Honorary Doctorate Award Ceremony took place on this historic Dauphine campus, located at the Porte Dauphine in central Paris.

Also honored was Joseph E. Stiglitz, Professor of Economics at Columbia University and winner of the 2001 Nobel Prize in economics. The University of Paris-Dauphine is an internationally recognized institution that specializes in organization and decision sciences.

Professor Fred S. Roberts speaking at the Honorary Doctorate Award Ceremony, June 27, 2013
SOURCE: David Roberts

In order of appearance left to right: University President Laurant Batch, Professor Stiglitz, Professor Roberts and University Professor Alexis Tsoukias (who introduced the honorees)
SOURCE: David Roberts