Course

- Grade distribution: Two midterms 200 pts, final 200 pts, Quiz 50 pts, Maple Lab 30 pts, HW 20 pts (total 500 pts).
- Course Website: <http://sites.math.rutgers.edu/courses/244/>
- The text is the 11th edition of Boyce, Diprima and Meade Elementary Differential Equations and Boundary Value Problems, ISBN-978-1-119-37575-3.
- You can receive free tutoring from the Rutgers Learning Center.
Go to <https://rlc.rutgers.edu/> for more information.

Quizzes

- At the end of class there will usually be a quiz. There will be a total of about 10 quizzes.
- There are no makeup quizzes. At the end of the semester, your lowest 1-2 quizzes will be dropped.

Maple

- There will be five Maple labs. See course website for more details.

Homework

- I will randomly select 1-2 problems from the assignment to grade.
- Each assignment will be graded out of 4 points.
- If you hand in your HW during class but late, I will deduct 1-2 pts.
- If you hand in your assignment after class, I will not accept it.
- At the end of the semester, your lowest 1-2 HW assignments will be dropped.
- If you know that you will miss a class, you can email me your homework as a PDF by 9:00am the day it is due.
- Presentation Matters! At the top of your paper include your name, the date, and your section number. If you are handing in multiple pages, staple them together. If you use notebook paper, remove the perforated edges. I will take off 1pt if you turn in multiple pages without a staple, or if your write-up is excessively messy, hard to read, incoherent, etc.
