

Non-Homogeneous Systems

Now that we can solve linear, constant-coefficient homogeneous systems, we want to look into non-homogeneous systems. How do these systems work?

Therefore, we can come up with method for solving these problems.

Methods of Solving

There are several different ways we can go about trying to find this particular solution.