

MIGUEL LATZ FAEBER

FROM : Lelia Kaufman Fligelman, Mrs. Scott

Lelia thinks that Mr. Faerber had two daughters. (both very homely women.)

One she believes married an/titled Englishman, moved to England, and then later, when he was afraid Hitler was coming, to Mexico City.

(her name is Frankie)
she referred me to a Mrs. Leo (pronounced Lay0o) Keller.

on Palm Drive in Beverly Hills---(consult an old telephone directory) Cr. 69876

Check with Mrs. Newmark if I want the address.

also tell Mrs. Keller that Mrs. Jules Kaufman referred her to me. I met her at the historical society.

Mrs. Keller is supposed to be a good friend of M. Faerber's daughter.

a second daughter (also extremely ugly) Lelia believes married Joseph Scott the famous Los Angeles Attorney. they had a great number of children ---mostly girls---and a large number of them are nuns---there is one Judge Joseph Scott---(whose grandfather is supposed to be Miguel Faerber.

Lelia remembers going to ~~the~~ a house to pay a call on a sick person. It was in a Mexican style house U-shaped with a garden in the middle. there was a woman in a dark bedroom---when asked how she was feeling would answer "ah, I suffer the tortures of hell."

the house Lelia believes was on West Adams Blvd. near Figueroa
